

MODERNIZED LOGGING CAMP

HAS BATH, ELECTRIC LIGHTS, AND LIBRARY TO INCREASE EFFICIENCY

GET THE BEST TYPES OF MEN

Cleanliness and Attractiveness the Strong Features of This Model Camp in Washington

Seattle, Wash.—"Clarence Hobnail, the huge fisted, hairy chested hook tender, emerged rosy from his morning ablutions in the tiled bathroom and made his toilet with usual care. Over the selection of a cravat that would match the dull bronze of his artful silk hosiery he spent a full quarter of an hour. Then, with a final polishing caress to his manicured nails he strode smiling from the bunkhouse, eager to begin his day's work."

Sounds foolish doesn't it? It is, but not so foolish as many an old time logger would consider the things that are going on in the Cherry Valley logging camp.

Logging de luxe is the program at Cherry Valley, but what the old timer might overlook in his scornful comment upon a model logging camp would be the efficiency of the plan. The Cherry Valley Logging Company which operates near Everett, has reformed the old time camp until an old timer would not recognize it, but not solely for the spiritual uplift of the logger; rather because this is good business.

The time honored logging camp, bunkhouse and cookhouse was the original bachelor's hall. It represented the worst man can do in the way of housekeeping.

The big men who go into the woods to get out the timber accepted that as a matter of course. It never occurred to them to consider whether a logging camp could be improved upon. Logging camps had always been as they were and always would be, in the estimation of any who ever gave the matter a thought. They were not intended to be permanent homes, nor palaces of pleasure for pampered dandies, who were too proud to bathe in the creek and eat off a plank table of uncertain cleanliness.

A bunk in a logging camp was, and is, with few exceptions, a plank box of coffin size, floored with fir boughs at some forgotten period. The food served on the plank tables was, and usually is, rich and above all plentiful but that is all one could conscientiously say of it.

Wash day in the old time logging camp comes on Sunday, and the time-honored method of laundering clothes is to hang them on a snag in the river and let the current do its worst.

Then the Cherry Valley Logging Company came into the field and brought about an innovation. It built a model logging camp.

Each man in this camp has a bed of his own, an iron bed, with springs and a mattress. The bunkhouse itself is a substantial, modern well ventilated, pleasant structure, with rooms for recreation. It has a laundry of its own and rows of sanitary laundry tubs where employees do their washing.

There are real bathrooms in this bunkhouse, and hot and cold running water for bathing. There are reading rooms, a library, and there are electric lights.

Similarly surprising things have been happening to the cookhouse. It is now a place where a dyspeptic would care to dine. Cleanliness and attractiveness are two of the strong features of the whole camp.

"The result of this innovation," said R. A. McDonald, manager of the company, who is a frequent Seattle visitor, "is increased efficiency. We get the best types of men and we keep them interested in the job. That means a bigger cut. We weren't indulging a whim for visionary philanthropy when we upset the traditions of logging camps. We were looking for dollars and cents results, and we got them."

But, shades of the great North woods, what will the old time logger say to it?

HIS FARM IS TRAMPS' HEAVEN

Good Natured Planter Houses 595 in One Year.

Reading, Pa.—Henry Heft, a good natured farmer of near Adamstown, gave lodging to 595 tramps during the past year. Every hobo calling at his country place is given a comfortable place to sleep and meals. In return the guests always do chores about the farm. In all his experience, Heft has never had any trouble with those whom he sheltered.

His records show the January guests numbered 34, February 32, March 83; April 83; May 64; June 71, July 37; August 70; September 32; October 18; November 38; and December 33.

Chop Down Edward's Tree.

Philadelphia, Pa.—The big elm tree in Independence Square, said to have been planted by King Edward VII. of England when he visited this country as the Prince of Wales in 1861, has been cut down. The tree had been dead for some time.

DUMB WAITER AT 19 OWNS FOUR RESTAURANTS

Speechless Lad on Capital of Pluck and Work Makes Good in Few Years.

Kalkaska, Mich.—Some joker has said that "the best thing a waiter does is wait," and the phrase has been kicked around from table to counter and counter to table, conveniently standing for whatever interpretation one's humor has given it.

There is a waiter in Michigan who is too busy to care what the phrase means. He has waited efficiently and therefore his wait for success in life has been shortened. Being dumb, he hasn't much to say about it, but here is his story.

Walter Stanley Grohe has resided in Kalkaska since his birth, 19 years ago. He began his life with a handicap. He was born dumb. That doesn't seem to bother him, tho, for he smiles it seems, always.

Six years ago Stanley's parents died within three weeks of each other and left their son, 13 years old, a legacy of thrift and tenacity. During the two years following Stanley continued his school work earning his board and room by waiting on people at meal time in a restaurant.

Then when he was fifteen years old he stopped going to school and devoted his time and energy to the feeding of the hungry public.

After two years he was able to purchase the restaurant in which he worked. Now he owns four restaurants and hopes to become proprietor of a still longer chain of "eat shops."

U. S. REDEEMS BURNED $1 BILL

So Now Little Hazel Long of Denver Is in Cheerful Mood.

Denver, Colo.—Five year old Hazel Long had saved her nickels until she had enough of them for a crisp $1 bill, which she concealed among some old newspapers. Her grandmother, with whom Hazel lives, picked up these papers one day three weeks ago and used them to kindle a fire in the kitchen stove. The girl saw it.

She burned her fingers in her effort to save the bill. The grandmother told the story to Rowland K. Goddard, government secret service agent.

He has just received a brand new bill from Washington with a letter saying that the redemption division of the treasury would make a special ruling in the case of this little girl.

LIGHTNING STRUCK RING

But Missed Wearer and He's Wondering.

Winchester, Va.—Hope Beam's finger ring is in the jeweler's shop because the ruby setting was loosened by lightning. Also he is alive and well after one of the most exciting experiences of his life, having faced death in an instant's time when a bolt of lightning struck in the concrete midway between the Leaderick and Empire buildings.

Beam was shocked severely, the electricity following the wiring into the office where he was working. Several women in the office of a physician next where the lightning struck were also shocked.

NEW USE FOR OLD PAPERS

Hamburg Scientist Plans to Make Them Into Fodder

Amsterdam—"Don't burn your old newspapers; save them," urges Prof. Hugo Werner in The Hamburg Nachrichten.

The professor explains that he is perfecting a scheme for turning paper waste into substitute for straw, which is largely used as fodder, not only in the ordinary way as chaff, but also in fresh ways after treatment by chemical processes.

"So we come to this," adds Prof. Mehner, "that the masses of old newspapers which have already fed men's minds in town and country will then feed cattle, and old brown paper and cardboard boxes will yield milk and beefsteak."

GETS NEW NOSE FROM OWN SKIN

Man Maimed in Fight Is Neatly Repaired in Hospital.

Pittsburgh, Pa.—By the grafting of skin from other parts of his body to his nose, a portion of which had been torn off in a fight, Daniel McCloskey, a middle aged resident of Susquehanna street, will leave the Pittsburgh hospital with a new nose. The grafting has been so successful that McCloskey's face will show but few signs of the injury.

HIKE 35 MILES FOR A BATH

That's What Citizens of Oatman, Arizona Have to Do.

Oatman, Ariz.—How would you like to walk 35 miles every time you took a bath? That's what the citizens of this place have to do, or pay 20 cents a gallon for water.

The mining boom is making the town grow at the rate of about 100 persons a day. The local water supply has to be teamed from Needles, Cal., 25 miles away.

WHAT'S CAUSE OF BOW LEGS?

Too Much Sausage and Pork, Says Harrisburg, Pa., Official.

Harrisburg, Pa.—According to John Yates, secretary of the Associated Aid Societies the children of the foreign element in this section are getting too much sausage and pork, causing bowlegs, knockknees and other ailments which should be unknown to healthy childhood.

AMERICAN KISSES PUZZLED JAP BOY

YOUTH NOW STUDENT AT MINNESOTA U., TELLS OF EARLY IMPRESSIONS

STUDYING DAIRY HUSBANDRY

Considered "Lipping the Cheek" an Odd Method of Salutation

Minneapolis, Minn.—"Why do you lip my cheek?" the Japanese boy inquires of his teacher. "That is a funny way of loving. My father and mother love me, but they never lip my cheek."

Back in flowery Hanamaki Iwate Ken, Japan, some 10 years ago, a young boy wrote in the 1,000 letter alphabet of the Japanese his impressions of the first white woman he saw, of the first kiss he received, of the first American he knew, and kept them in his diary. That diary written by Kelsuke Obara, who is now a student at the University of Minnesota, has been transcribed into English by the author. The cryptic letters yield a strikingly naive bit of young Japanese thought.

The diary is dated from February 25, 1905, and runs on for a year, or until Mr. Obara's departure for the United States.

Obara and the first white woman came face to face on the first page. "I met a strange person in the park today," he records. "I could not tell whether that person was a man or a woman. She told me that she was an American lady. She must have been, because she had long hair. She had a funny hat on her head. I could not think a lady wearing a hat. All my friends ran away when she came toward us."

"She was so tall, dressed in the funniest kind of dress I ever saw. It was anything but a kimono. Her complexion was so sickly white, her nose so prominent, her eyes so big and blue. I never saw a person with blue eyes. My father, mother, sisters and myself all have black eyes. I wonder why."

"I also was afraid, but I stay. My father says I am a samurai, a born knight of Japan, and I remember."

"She spoke to me and asked if I was not afraid of her. I told her I was a samurai and not afraid of even ghosts."

On the date of March 2, 1906, he writes down in the booklet his first opinion of American children.

"Yankee children awfully clumsy children," he says.

He had seen one, and that one couldn't fly a kite.

"Americans speak so funny Japanese," another page tells.

In September of the same year he writes: "Once Miss B. asked me what I wanted to be when I grew up. Pointing to the rising sun I told her that I wanted to be a general and get the order of the Rising Sun from the Mikado. Miss B. told me most American children want to make big money, and I thought was an awfully funny ideal for boys to have."

GAZE AT OBJECT; HYPNOTIZED

University Professor Shows Boys They Can Perform Queer Stunts

Columbia, Mo.—A demonstration of hypnotism by Prof. Mox Myer, head of the psychology department at the University of Missouri, showed that hypnosis can be induced without the influence of a hypnotist.

Professor Myer hypnotized students by having them gaze fixedly at a bright object with no sound to distract attention.

Later he suggested that one hypnotized student was an artist painting a picture; another a wounded soldier home from the trenches; still another an intoxicated diner out, and the students acted their parts.

Lee S. Eads of Hamilton, Mo., was the star subject in Professor Myer's demonstration of hypnotism.

HARD NUT FOR THE SQUIRRELS

Knife Probably 72 Years Old in Nest Partly Nibbled

Milan, Tenn.—Jim Jackson, mail carrier out of here, has a pocket knife that was found a few days ago by Jake Roberts in a squirrel hole in a big tree three miles south of Lavonia on the Forked Deer River. Near the tree was a birch tree with the name of Leroy McAlexander, 1843, cut into the bark.

The horn of the knife has been almost completely eaten off by the squirrels. It is thought that McAlexander dropped the knife by the birch tree and the squirrels carried it to their nest for food, seventy-two years ago.

TOOTH SAVES WOMAN'S LIFE

Chester, Pa.—Mrs. A. Paccio, 25 years old who lives at Leipsville, had a remarkable escape from being killed when a revolver that C. Moccia was handling was accidentally discharged. The bullet struck her in the mouth, knocking out one tooth and tearing away part of the upper lip. She was taken to the Chester Hospital for treatment, suffering more from shock than injury.

HOLE IN MAN'S HEART IS PLUGGED; LIFE RESTORED

Heroic Operation that Saved Would-Be Suicide From Death Is Fully Explained.

Kirkville, Mo.—Earl H. Fisk of Helena, Mont., who shot himself thru the heart here still lives and is in a fair way toward recovery. His life was saved by an operation performed by Dr. George A. Still, who says he took hold of Fisk's heart, thru which the bullet had passed and by twisting the tissue of it with his thumb and forefinger plugged the hole and stopped the flow of blood. Dr. Still says the heart had ceased to beat and the man was apparently dead.

Fisk shot himself in his room shortly before 1 p. m. He was carried into the operating room at 1:20 o'clock. Examination showed a bullet wound directly above the heart. The following account of what was done was dictated by Dr. Still.

"The shirt and undershirt were cut away from the chest and the skin immediately sterilized with pure carbolic acid washed off with alcohol. The patient gasped a few times after being laid on the table, but apparently was dead. No pulse could be felt either in the wrist or neck."

"I made the remark that there wasn't much use operating on a corpse and then added that he wouldn't be any deadlier if we had a good look at the wound inside. I immediately opened the chest between the fourth and fifth ribs for about four inches, the bullet hole being in the middle of the wound, which was in the intercostal space below the rib near the nipple, a little inside. The wound exposed a hole in the pericardium, which was distended with blood. I split the pericardium and let out a lot of blood clot. This exposed the hole in the heart."

"The instant I took hold of the heart it began to beat. With my index finger I twisted the tissue of the heart wall so as to plug the hole in the heart, then removed the remaining clots in the heart sack or pericardium."

"From then on the pulse picked up, but all the time I was sewing up the wounds and while the nurses were administering a gallon of normal salt solution, he did not regain consciousness. The normal salt solution was to replace the lost blood and counteract shock."

"He did not regain consciousness until some time after he had been in bed, and it was two or three days before he was totally rational."

"The pulse steadily improved until after about three days it was normal. He ran a little fever during the first week. His temperature was practically normal for the next two weeks, and later on he left the hospital, apparently all right."

"The bullet which had gone thru the body and lodged in the tissues under the skin between the tenth and eleventh ribs on the right side, was removed. It was perfectly shaped. The end of it showed the imprint of his shirt where it struck before entering the body. The sides showed the marks of the revolver riflings. It had missed the ribs going in and showed no bone marks. It must have traversed a lip of the lung, the heart and liver."

"It went thru the heart near the center. It must have barely missed the largest vein in the body, the vena cava, and a little farther to the right would have caught the thin part of the heart and the pulmonary vessels; a little farther to the left the aorta the main artery of the body. The bullet was an old style one of lead."

Fisk tried to get out of bed one night when the attendant was not looking. He struggled to injure the wound.

Two weeks ago he had sufficiently recovered to leave Kirkville with his mother for their home at Helena. They stopped at Minneapolis for a visit with relatives and while there Fisk was taken with the grip, but according to information from there the illness was not traceable to his wound and he has practically recovered.

No motive has been disclosed by Fisk for his desire to die. His father killed himself in September, shortly after Fisk entered the school as a student. His grandfather also took his own life.

OILED PENNIES HER ALIMONY

Former "Hubby's First Payment Is 3,500 in a Tin Can

Sedalia, Mo.—When Mrs. George Arbuckle received her first month's alimony she was forced to pay 45 cents for express charges on the money. And when she opened the package she found an oil can filled with pennies. There were 3,500 of the round red disks, and they were well lubricated by the oil which the can also contained. She spent the best part of a week washing off her alimony and then carted it off to the bank. Then she learned that she need not have accepted the can of pennies, as cents are not legal tender for amounts over 25 cents. And now Mrs. Arbuckle is on guard for the next month's remittance. If another can of coppers heaves in sight she will stand on her rights with the dignity and refuse to accept it.

St. Louis Women Study Law
St. Louis, Mo.—Studying corporation law is the latest fad of the St. Louis women. This came to light when fifty members of the Wednesday club, one of the most exclusive women's organizations in the city, applied to Secretary of State Roach for copies of the corporation laws of the state of Missouri.

IS ACCUSED OF INSANITY PLOT

NEW YORK WOMAN ALLEGES SHE WAS RAILROADED TO AN ASYLUM

NOW WANTS HER PROPERTY BACK

Divorced from Husband in Chicago And Sued After Second Marriage

New York.—A mother's charge that she was railroaded to an insane asylum by her daughter, who later got control of her property, was made before Supreme Court Justice Newburger when Mrs. Almira P. Mable asked the court to vacate a commitment signed by Justice Blanchard nearly two years ago. Her accusations were made against her daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Brown.

Mrs. Mable was divorced from her husband in Chicago and subsequently sued him for accrued alimony after he had married a second time. She got judgment against him and came here to live with her daughter, Mrs. Brown and the latter's husband. She then deposited her money in various banks.

The petitioner said that after she became a member of her daughter's household she suffered from indigestion and on Mrs. Brown's advice she saw a physician. Mrs. Mable alleges that this was the first step in 'the scheme by her daughter to get control of her property. She said that while the physician pretended to be treating her for indigestion he was acting as an examiner in lunacy. Mrs. Mable said that a few days later her daughter complained of illness and asked her to accompany her to consult another physician.

Mrs. Mable said that three days afterwards three men and a nurse forcibly took her from her daughter's home and she found herself later in the Knickerbocker Hall Sanitarium at Amityville, L. I., where she was committed as insane on the affidavits of two examiners in lunacy, who asked that the service of papers on Mrs. Mable be dispensed with on the ground that it would excite her.

"This statement was a gross and unmitigated mendacity and part of the conspiracy and compact to railroad me to an asylum," said Mrs. Mable. The petitioner said that when she was put in the asylum her daughter took $400 she had with her. The circumstances under which Mrs. Mable says her daughter took her from Knickerbocker are as follows:

"In tears I pleaded with my daughter to remove me, but she could not be shaken. I believe she was acting under the advice of her father, my divorced husband, who had come on from Chicago and is living in Brooklyn. My daughter came and had me discharged from the institution, but as soon as I was out she insisted that I go to the German Savings Bank and draw out $500 for her. Then I was forced to go to Dr. Barnes' sanitarium at Stamford, Conn. While a patient there I gave my daughter $500 more, and when she promised to secure my release if I would turn over to her my bank books, stocks and diamonds, I did so."

Mrs. Mable says her daughter took her from Stamford and planned to send her to another sanitarium in the Catskills, but while they were waiting for a train she says she escaped. She wandered to Harrison, N. Y., and was admitted to St. Vincent's Retreat there. Soon afterward she got in touch with a lawyer who made the application in order that she might get possession of her property now in the hands of her daughter.

Although the application was not opposed, Justice Newburger said he had no power to grant the relief asked, because Mrs. Mable had been locally discharged from Knickerbocker Hall.

FIGHTS WITH HIS WOODEN LEG

Cos Cob Cripple Sent to Jail for Two Months

Greenwich, Conn.—His practice of using his wooden leg as a weapon resulted in the sentencing of John Strain a well known resident of Bible street, Cos Cob, to the Fairfield county jail for two months.

Strain's defiance of the law reached a climax when Constable Lorenzo Curcio went to serve a warrant for the production of the cripple's two children, issued by Assistant Prosecutor Henry B. White for their commitment to a state home. Strain barricaded himself in his house and when the Constable attempted to force an entrance, he was met by a rain of blows from the wooden leg.

GETS HIS THIRD SET OF TEETH

Man is 94 and Also Has His Second Sight

Ocean City, N. J.—Jonathan Fisher of Vincentown, who is spending some time at the home of his daughter, is cutting his third set of teeth at the age of 94 years. He also has his second sight, but is compelled to use glasses at present when reading. He is a well preserved man of his age.

The albatross is the largest of sea birds.

WHEN YOU WAKE UP DRINK GLASS OF HOT WATER

Wash the poisons and toxins from system before putting more food into stomach.

Says Inside-bathing makes anyone look and feel clean, sweet and refreshed.

Wash yourself on the inside before breakfast like you do on the outside. This is vastly more important because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing illness, while the bowel pores do.

For every ounce of food and drink taken into the stomach, nearly an ounce of waste material must be carried out of the body. If this waste material is not eliminated day by day, it quickly ferments and generates poisons, gases and toxins which are absorbed or sucked into the blood stream, through the lymph ducts which should suck only nourishment to sustain the body.

A splendid health measure is to drink, before breakfast each day, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, which is a harmless way to wash these poisons, gases and toxins from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels; thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs but very little at the drug store but is sufficient to make anyone an enthusiast on inside-bathing. Men and women who are accustomed to wake up with a dull, aching head or have furred tongue, bad taste, nasty breath, shallow complexion, others who have bilious attacks, acid stomach or constipation are assured of pronounced improvement in both health and appearance shortly.

It's a woman's natural faith that enables her to believe only the things she wants to when she knows she doesn't.

One of the easiest ways for a man to get married is to tell a young widow that he intends to remain a bachelor.

WHEN VISITING STRANGE PLACES

It is well to be prepared with a reliable cathartic Salts and castor oil cannot be taken by many. Foley Cathartic Tablets are wholesome and cleansing, act surely but gently, without griping, pain or nausea. Relieve sick headache, biliousness, bloating, sour stomach, bad breath. Fine for a torpid liver.—Hites Drug Store.

Do all the work you can; there are lots of lazy men who will do the rest.

Don't wait for your ship to come in; charter a tug and go out and meet it.

An office holder should remember that one bad term doesn't deserve another.

SCOFFERS PAY THE PENALTY

Those who ignore warning signals of disordered kidneys and scoff at dangers of serious consequences often pay the penalty with dread diabetes or Bright's disease. If you have lame back, pains in sides, sore muscles, stiff joints, rheumatic aches—take Foley Kidney Pills and stop the trouble before it is too late.—Hites Drug Store.

People who do not believe all they hear are fond of repeating it.

A man buys clothes to put on—a woman buys them to show off.

Be sure you are right—but don't be too sure everybody else is wrong.

DARKEN GRAY HAIR, LOOK YOUNG, PRETTY

Sage Tea and Sulphur Darkens So Naturally that Nobody can tell.

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture improved by the addition of other ingredients by asking at any drug store for a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite to impart color and a youthful appearance to the hair. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.
